Bureau of Information, 200 East Ontario, Chicago 11: 1959. Price, 25 cents.

A pictorial chart covering the history of autos from 1893 to 1960 shows "family histories" of major makes of cars, silhouette drawings of many models, trends in chassis design, accessories, etc. The chart is printed in color and is 31 in. x 10 in.

Student Teaching

The Student Teacher at Work. Charles D. Neal. Burgess Publishing Co., 426 South Sixth Street, Minneapolis 15, Minn.; 1959. Paper. 171 pages. Price, $2.50.

Providing some practical answers to common teaching problems, this handbook is helpful for new teachers as well as students (even before laboratory experiences). It should also be useful for supervising teachers and administrators concerned with student teaching. The author is director of student teaching at Southern Illinois University.

Vocational Education

Vocational Education for Rural America. Department of Rural Education, National Education Association, 1201 16th Street NW, Washington 6, D. C.; 1959. Clothbound. Illustrated. 354 pages. Price, $4.

How to meet the growth of vocational education—and better prepare rural youth for living in an increasingly specialized world—inspired this study by the department and the American Vocational Association. The yearbook advocates that inadequacies of rural education can be resolved "only as the problems which face education as a whole are recognized and attacked through cooperation and mutual reenforcement."

Supervision to Improve Instruction in Distributive Education. Superintendent of Documents, US Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.; 1959. Paper. 19 pages. Price, 15 cents.

This bulletin emphasizes the importance of a constructive supervision program and offers suggestions to the supervisor on organization, staffing, etc. It also provides a source of materials for teacher-education and in-service activities.

Preparation of Mentally Retarded Youth for Gainful Employment. Superintendent of Documents, US Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.; 1959. Paper. 86 pages. Price, 35 cents.

A study by several national agencies and organizations is the basis for this report. It considers public-school responsibilities for the mentally retarded, vocational rehabilitation, job placement, etc. Several school programs are described in detail.

Some Facts for Young Workers About Work and Labor Laws. Superintendent of Documents, US Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.; 1959. Paperbound. Illustrated. 21 pages. Price, 15 cents.

Written in a friendly, person-to-person style, this booklet encourages youngsters not to slight their education. It goes on to explain labor laws, employment practices, employee responsibilities, etc.

Vocational Planning for College Students, Henry Borow and Robert V. Lindsey. Prentice-Hall, Inc., Englewood Cliffs, N. J.; 1959. Paperbound. 186 pages. Price, $2.95.

Designed for orientation or vocational planning courses in the first or second year of college, this is a text-workbook. By means of a developmental series of written projects, discussion units, laboratory exercises, and outside assignments, the students is taught a systematic method for evolving a suitable and satisfying career program.

Miscellaneous

The Federal Budget and "The General Welfare." Conference on Economic Progress, 1001 Connecticut Avenue NW, Washington 6, D.C.; 1959. Paperbound. Illustrated. 76 pages. Price, 50 cents; quantity rates.

The theme of this report is "to reverse the great neglect of the general welfare." It discusses health, education, and other welfare problems; how the federal budget neglects the general welfare; and adjusting the budget. Many charts and other statistics are used.

What Could I Be?, Walter M. Lifton. Science Research Associates, Inc., 259 East Erie Street, Chicago 11: 1960. Paper. Illustrated. 33 pages. Price, 54 cents.

Motivation to learn is directly related to a child's conception of what is important in life and his ideas about how he can reach his goals. This text and workbook introduces, to the intermediate grades, "the world of work." It does not proceed to information about specific jobs; but personality traits, skills, and job families are considered. The teacher's manual, 23 pages, costs 50 cents.
